Annual Art Prize
Exhibition opening
on 9th October 2022

PRESIDENT'S SAY

Hello Everyone,

Our Annual Exhibition looked fantastic thanks to Lesley & Alan Whitten, Alex & Katya Mortensen and all the members hard work hanging, and the members who helped by doing duties over the weekend and pulling down on Sunday.

For those members who helped, thank you for making it a great success. Thanks all of you and also it was great to see our members do so well. Congratulations to all the winners.

Happy painting.

Helen

WELCOME TO NEW MEMBERS

We had the pleasure at our meeting of approving the applications of Helen Strano, Judith Dimitrov, Donna Ronning and Emma Llewelyn. Welcome all of you! We trust you will attend our meetings when possible and very importantly become involved in our tutored workshops, untutored life drawing days and any of our activities. Please ensure you always read the newsletter and visit our website. Your contributions to our newsletter will be much appreciated. In fact, you may even like to submit a short item about any art you have done and include a photo or two.

THE GOULBURN WORKERS CLUB ANNUAL ART PRIZE

Our art society's main activity for the year is our annual art prize, named after our main sponsor and the venue in which we hold it.

After cancelling it for 2 years due to Covid we worried about the effects of those cancellations would be on the 2022 exhibition. While numbers of both entrants and entries were down to some degree, we still had 210 entries from 48 artists and photographers resulting in an excellent exhibition of which we felt justifiably proud.

The entries were of a high standard so the judge, Chan Dissanayake had a difficult task to select the prize winners from the 203 art works, while Peter Sykes had less to choose from in his judging of the Photography and Digital Art section. We greatly appreciate the time and effort the judges gave for us. Attendance at the official opening was another most pleasant surprise to us as there were up to 100 people in attendance despite our advertising being a little light on this year. Among these were numerous entrants, art society members, sponsors and four Goulburn Mulwaree councillors.

Vice President, Alex Mortensen, was MC for the opening in lieu of our president, Helen De Jonge, who was still recovering from a serious operation. Tony Dawson, President of Goulburn Workers Club, officially opened the exhibition and the Deputy Mayor of Goulburn Mulwaree Council, Cr Steve Ruddell, was also invited to speak. As the Crescent School was the recipient of our raffle proceeds its principal, Steve Edmonds, told the gathering a little about the school.

GDAS Secretary, Lesley Whitten, presented the prizes.

It was a most enjoyable evening and there were people still wandering around looking at the exhibition until about 9pm. Many more passed through the doors during the 3 days of it running. Congratulations to all the prize winners and to the entrants who sold works at the exhibition.

Bring the materials that you prefer to use in drawing or painting. If you wish to attend, please notify Helen De Jonge as soon as possible. There is a limit of 12 participants and if less than 5 it will not go ahead.

If the weather forecast is considered by the model to be too cold and hence The Art Studio will be too cold, then participants will be notified of its cancellation a couple of days before the Saturday session.

As now the temperature is rising and the Capital Pathology Covid testing clinic has gone we can start meeting on our regular Thursday painting days. It was a great and fruitful practice in the past. Bring your current project and enjoy painting together in great company.

THE OCTOBER MEETING

Our October meeting was attended by 11 members. We were very pleased to welcome Councillor Daniel Strickland, who spoke to us about who he is and what he is doing. He welcomed questions members put to him about various issues in regard to the art society and ably answered them. These issues involved such things as to whether there is any support available to us for a website; the Community Working Group; concerns as to our future location. He saw for himself the current unsuitable nature of our premises in cold weather and the need for us to have adequate heating for our activities. We look forward to other councillors attending our meetings in the future.

We'll be devoting a meeting early next year in February or March to look at what we can do better for the Annual Art Prize and to plan for the 2023 one. The Annual Art prize will be held over the October long weekend - the exhibition will run for 4 days so we'll need more members to play an active role in duties. Being the long weekend, it is hoped more visitors will pass through the exhibition and especially visitors from further afield.

Please put your thinking caps on. Make notes now, while the 2022 exhibition is fresh in your mind, so you come to the meeting next year with suggestions as to what we can do better. It takes all of us to produce a good exhibition!

NEW MEMBERS

The Annual Art Prize was a most appropriate time to speak with people about the art society; to tell them what we do; to tell them the benefits of being a member; to invite them to consider joining us. We had a number of people take membership application forms away and some who completed the forms on the spot. When you do talk to people about joining, please point out that after the membership application is received by the membership secretary, the committee must give its approval at a meeting before a person is granted membership. Notification will then be sent or given to the applicant.

RECUPERATION

It certainly came as a shock to us that President Helen had to have serious surgery in Canberra Hospital and we were so worried about her. On being released into the care of her husband, Donald (also a member), we were further shocked to find that he promptly went down with pneumonia and had to be taken by ambulance to Goulburn District Hospital. Our stalwart member, Marion Schumacher, then cared for Helen by hosting her for the days while Donald was a hospital patient. Thank you, Marion, for looking after Helen.
